

An offer from HTW Berlin:

SpreeHub Expert Discussions

The SpreeHub by HTW Berlin as a contact partner for economy and innovation space for projects, workshops and events.

SPREE

SpreeHub Expert Discussions promote the exchange of information between science and economy. In small groups or bilateral discussions, you will discuss company-relevant topics selected by you with experts and talents from the university and get informed about the current state of research. Thanks to the intensive exchange, Expert Discussions form an excellent basis for further cooperation between the participants.

Please talk to us about the topic you would like to exchange on in an Expert Discussion. Together we will find out what you need and network you with the matching experts and talents from the university.
